

Figure 1-3 A metallic walled cubical cavity filled with electromagnetic radiation, showing three noninterfering components of that radiation bouncing back and forth between the walls and forming standing waves with nodes at each wall.